The Cloverdale Historical Society is proud to display the Cecile and Jean-Pierre Mouraux collection of WW1 Poster Art. This exhibit is part of the Mouraux Poster Art collection, one of the largest in the United States. WW1 was the first conflict in which the illustrated color lithographic was used as a propaganda tool. During the war, the posters accessibility and impact made it the single most important means of mass communication. The WW1 Ephemera Exhibit includes military artifacts, letters, uniforms and artifacts from local families and some from around the world. A $5.00 donation is appreciated. The CHS is open Thursday, 10 am – 4 pm, Friday, 10 am – 2 pm, Saturday 10am – 4pm and Sunday, noon – 4pm. Please call ahead to confirm. 707- 894-2067 or office@cloverdalehistory.org. The CHS is a California 501 (c3) non-profit Corporation and is located at 215 N. Cloverdale Blvd., Cloverdale, CA. 95425.
